At SICAM 2026, Vauth-Sagel presents Ligano+ as a wood programme – with finger-jointed solid oak shelves for numerous Vauth-Sagel fitting systems

Pordenone, 20 October 2026 – Wood, natural materials and warm colours are increasingly shaping modern kitchen and living spaces. With Ligano+, Vauth-Sagel carries this design approach consistently into the cabinet interior: finger-jointed solid oak shelves meet high-quality Vauth-Sagel fitting systems. The premium programme is aimed at discerning customers who refuse to compromise on materials and design – even inside the cabinet. Having been shown as a concept at SICAM 2025, Ligano+ is now presented by Vauth-Sagel at SICAM 2026 as a wood programme for numerous products from its own portfolio – true to the brand promise 'Comfort makes the difference'.

Genuine material, visible quality

Ligano+ relies on solid oak – a genuine natural material with an individual grain and a warm feel. The finger joints of the shelves are a visible mark of quality that underlines the programme's craftsmanship. Their timeless look blends into individual kitchen and living concepts and retains its premium appeal for years to come.

A perfect match for wooden drawers

In high-end kitchens, wooden drawers have long been a hallmark of quality and homeliness. Anyone who already has them in their kitchen, or chooses them, can now extend this design to the functional pull-outs too: with Ligano+, Vauth-Sagel fittings also carry oak shelves. Wooden drawers and functional pull-outs thus form a single design unit – ideally, the cabinet interior looks as though it were made from one piece.

Wood look meets modularity

The oak shelves integrate flexibly into Vauth-Sagel's modular fitting systems. At SICAM 2026, Vauth-Sagel shows Ligano+ in combination with the base unit pull-outs VS SUB® Side and VS SUB® Larder, the tall unit pull-outs VS TAL® Larder and VS TAL® Gate, and the corner solutions VS COR® Flex and VS COR® Fold. The fittings can be combined with frames in white, silver and lava – allowing Ligano+ to be matched to both light and dark kitchen concepts. The VS TOP® Down lowering mechanism is available in a Ligano+ version on request.

Outlook: further applications under review

Vauth-Sagel is already looking at how Ligano+ can be extended to further products. Under discussion are oak side panels for the VS ENVI® Space XX Pro waste separation system and special wooden inserts for the VS Larder Flex modules – for example for hanging wooden spoons and spatulas, or for even finer organisation within the shelves.
